Demand Made on Insurance Company for Theft Committed in Bretton Hall.

WAS TAKEN FROM TRUNK

Agent Leaves City in Effort to Trace Gems That Were Stolen Mysteriously.

PROVIDES FOR BEER AFTER HER FUNERAL

Will of Mrs. Apman Decrees Treat for Mourners.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McManus were the victims of the thieves who rifled an apartment on the fourth floor of Bretton Hall, Broadway and Eighty-sixth street, some time between 11:45 P.M. Wednesday and 8 A.M. Thursday. The list printed in THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD yesterday was only a part of the loot. Neither Mr. McManus nor his wife would reveal just what their loss was, but they have claimed $15,000 in insurance, which is said to be far short of the value of the stolen jewelry.

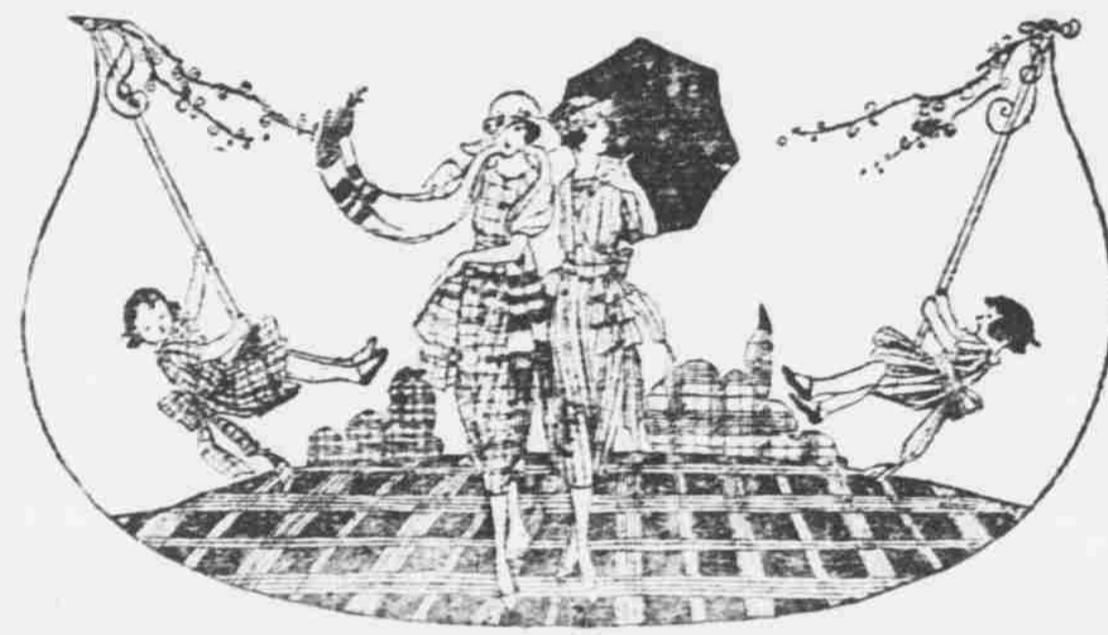

Mrs. McManus last saw the jewels at noon Wednesday when she was dressing for luncheon. She had occasion to go to a trunk in which they were stored and noticed they were safe. It was not until 4 o'clock the following evening when Mrs. McManus was dressing for dinner that she found it necessary to go to the trunk again. As soon as she lifted the lid she noted the contents were disarranged and a further investigation led to discovery of the theft.

Above from the list printed yesterday:

HOLDS VAUDEVILLE IS NOT COMMERCE

Department of Justice Declines to Act on Actors' Charges of Monopoly.

Organized vaudeville, represented by the Vaudeville Managers' Protective Association, the United Booking Offices and allied corporations, contended that a branch of amusement, an important industry, when the Department of Justice in Washington ruled that the vaudeville business is not interstate commerce and returned the records in the White Raft's complaint of monopoly and unfair competition to the Federal Trade Commission. The Trade Commission, after an investigation extending over two years, had found the vaudeville interests had not violated the Clayton act or the Sherman law.

It was one of the contentions of the White Raft that the vaudeville combination was breaking the law regulating interstate commerce.

There will be no more performances of "Richard III" by John Barrymore this season. The brilliant young star who was compelled to give up his role in "An American Tragedy" on account of the strenuous attack necessitating the cancellation of all performances for the week, was still in such a condition yesterday that it was evident he could not continue. Accordingly Mr. Hopkins issued the following statement:

"Mr. Barrymore's condition evidently so serious that he cannot be materially benefited by a curtailed rest, I have decided to take off 'Richard III' until next autumn."

CLEMENCY FOR KIDNAPPER

Smith Cuts Sentence of Nasca, Convicted Here in 1917.

Gov. Smith forwarded to Sing Sing famous case to the Federal Trade Commission C. E. Apman, assistant to the attorney-general, wrote to Victor Murdoch, chairman of the commission:

"This subject has previously been considered by the Department, and my predecessor in office, in 1917, gave you my opinion that the offense of 'treason' will and is probably will go down in history."

"I direct that all my relatives and friends who attend my funeral are not to pay for the cost of the coaches," the will states. "This expense is to be paid out of my estate. I also direct that all my relatives and friends attend my funeral at the Hotel Bretton, Bretton's Hotel, Middle Village, and that they be served with punch, coffee and beer at my expense."

The estate is valued at $2,000.
